The Teapot Pottery

Carters of Suffolk have been manufacturing high quality collectable and novelty teapots since 1978, when the pottery was founded by Tony Carter and his wife, Anita. The pottery, originally known as Kiln Cottage Pottery, quickly developed an enthusiastic following for its high quality hand made ceramics. It was soon specialising in quirky teapot designs, and Tony built an international reputation which has been maintained to this day.

The Teapot Pottery deliver teapots worldwide and with over thirty years of teapot production have made many special edition teapots, which have been available in some of the world's most prestigious shops including Harrods, Bloomingdales, Macys, and on board the Q E 2 and Queen Mary ships.

Have you ever wondered how teapots are made?

Visit to The Teapot Pottery at Stonham and it will allow you to see our world renowned teapots being made and painted by hand.

If you enjoy painting then come along and create your own artistic souvenir masterpiece from a selection of pottery.

Using vivid colours let your imagination run wild! Then they will glaze and fire your masterpiece in their production kilns for later collection, or mailed to your home address.
